*HOST COMMITTEE STILL IN FORMATION

We invite you to serve as a member of the 2018 Women's Luncheon Host Committee. As a host committee member, your efforts are vital to the success of the event.

Host Committee members contribute to the event in the following ways:

- Commit to sponsoring a table at the Silver level ($5,000) or higher and filling the table of 10 people.
- Promote the event and mission of ACE Scholarships to your social circles.
- Support the Power of the Purse raffle by supplying quality purses or making introductions to help secure donated items.

Host Committee members will receive the following benefits:

- Listing in the event collateral
- One complimentary raffle ticket for each of your table guests

To become a member of the Women's Luncheon Host Committee, please contact Brittani Johnson at bjohnson@acescholarships.org.

GIULIANA RANCIC

New York Times best-selling author and the winner of the Fan Favorite award at the 2014 Daytime Emmy Awards, Giuliana Rancic is an entertainment journalist, author, fashion and beauty expert and television personality with over 3.5 million devoted followers on Twitter and 10 million followers across her social media platforms. She has been on the red carpet for every mega-event in the entertainment industry (Oscars, Grammy Awards, Golden Globes) interviewing the stars and getting breaking Hollywood scoop as well as all things pop culture.

Giuliana is also a fashion designer. She launched her clothing line, G by Giuliana on HSN – the most successful clothing line debut on HSN in 2012, and she is also a restaurateur, as the "R" in the popular restaurant group RPM Italian and RPM Steak.

In 2012, Rancic released her second book, I Do, Now What? published by Random House. Giuliana co-authored the book with her husband, Bill Rancic. Last year, she debuted her highly anticipated memoir, Going Off Script, also with Random House. The book debuted on the New York Times Best Sellers List.

In 2013, Rancic created “Fab-U-Wish,” a program to grant fashion, beauty and celebrity-themed wishes to women battling breast cancer. This program is just one aspect of her ongoing mission to help those going through hardships to find happiness and a positive outlook on life. Others include The Pink Agenda, Breast Cancer Research Foundation, Operation Smile, Dress For Success, Mercy Home for Boys and Girls in Chicago and the Children’s Miracle Networks.

In 2002, Giuliana joined E! News as a correspondent and in 2005 became solo anchor and managing editor for the show, taking it from the lowest rated show on the network to number one... incredibly within one year. She was the anchor of E! News for almost a decade before stepping down to be with her family but still remained at E! to host their flagship shows and events.

Rancic is a force both on-camera and off but her remarkable success didn’t come easily. She is a true result of “The American Dream” and an inspiration to people, both young and old. She was born in Naples, Italy, in a modest neighborhood, and moved to the United States when she was a little girl. Her love affair with television journalism began before she could even speak English – her parents couldn’t afford a tutor, so she learned the language by watching TV. She received a bachelor’s degree in journalism from the University of Maryland and a master’s degree in journalism from American University. While in attendance, Giuliana worked for a Capitol Hill news bureau covering a number of stories related to the Pentagon, Supreme Court, White House and State Department.

She lives in Los Angeles and Chicago with her husband, Bill and their five-year-old son, Duke.

ACE WOMEN'S LUNCHEON

The ACE Women's Luncheon embraces the power and influence of women in expanding education, creating opportunity, and transforming lives. Together, we have the ability to change the status quo of education in this state, and our nation. By supporting ACE Scholarships, we are proving that when parents are given the opportunity to choose the best educational option for their families, children thrive.
